(At ease reclin'd in rustic state) How vain the ardour of the Crowd, How low, how little are the Proud, How indigent the Great!

Still is the toiling hand of Care: The panting herds repose: Yet hark, how thro' the peopled air The bufy murmur glows! The infect youth are on the wing, and and the Eager to taste the honied spring, And float amid the liquid noon; Some lightly o'er the current skim, and a district and Some shew their gayly gilded trim Quick-glancing to the fun. The sportive kind reply:
Poor moralist! and what art thou?
A solitary sty!
Thy Joys no glittering semale meets,
No hive hast thou of hoarded sweets,
No painted plumage to display:
On hasty wings thy youth is slown;
Thy sun is set, thy spring is gone ---We frolic while 'tis May.

YE distant spires, ye antique towers,
That crown the watry glade,
Where grateful Science still adores
Her Henry's holy Shade;
And ye, that from the stately brow
Of Windsor's heights th' expanse below
Of grove, of lawn, of mead survey,
Whose turf, whose shade, whose slowers among
Wanders the hoary Thames along
His silver-winding way.

Ah happy hills, ah pleafing shade,

Ah fields belov'd in vain,

Where once my careless childhood stray'd,

A stranger yet to pain!

C

I feel the gales, that from ye blow,
A momentary bliss bestow,
As waving fresh their gladsome wing,
My weary soul they seem to sooth,
And, redolent of joy and youth,
To breath a second spring.

Say, Father THAMES, for thou hast seen
Full many a sprightly race
Disporting on thy margent green
The paths of pleasure trace,
Who foremost now delight to cleave
With pliant arm thy glassy wave?
The captive linnet which enthrall?
What idle progeny succeed
To chase the rolling circle's speed,
Or urge the slying ball?

While some on earnest business bent
Their murimuring labours ply
'Gainst gravest hours, that bring constraint
To sweeten liberty:
Some bold adventurers disdain
The limits of their little reign,

Of Wexpenses heighterly under the below

Where once my caraled childhood flray'd.

Al fields belov'd in vain.

And unknown regions dare descry:
Still as they run they look behind,
They hear a voice in every wind,
And snatch a fearful joy.

Gay hope is theirs by fancy fed,

Less pleasing when possest;

The tear forgot as soon as shed,

The sunshine of the breast:

Theirs buxom health of rosy hue,

Wild wit, invention ever-new,

And lively chear of vigour born;

The thoughtless day, the easy night,

The spirits pure, the slumbers light,

That sly th' approach of morn.

Alas, regardless of their doom,
'The little victims play!

No sense have they of ills to come,
Nor care beyond to-day:
Yet see how all around 'em wait
The Ministers of human sate,
And black Missortune's baleful train!
Ah, shew them where in ambush stand
To seize the prey their murth'rous band!

The Huntingdons and Hattons there

To raise the cieling's fretted height,

Each pannel in achievements cloathing,

Rich windows that exclude the light,

And passages, that lead to nothing.

The Heroines undertook the talk,
Thro' lanes unknown, o'er stiles they ventur'd,
Rap'd at the door, nor stay'd to ask,
But bounce into the parlour enter'd.

The trembling family they daunt,

They flirt, they fing, they laugh, they tattle,

Rummage his Mother, pinch his Aunt,

And up flairs in a whirlwind rattle.

Each hole and cupboard they explore?

Each creek and cranny of his chamber,

Run hurry-fkurry round the floor,

And o'er the bed and tefter clamber,

Into the Drawers and China pry,

Papers and books, a huge Imbroglio!

Under a tea-cup he might lie,

Or creafed, like dogs-ears in a folio.

On the first marching of the troops
The Muses, hopeless of his pardon,
Convey'd him underneath their hoops
To a small closet in the garden.

So Rumor fays. (Who will, believe.)
But that they left the door a-jarr,
Where, fafe and laughing in his fleeve,
He heard the diftant din of war.

Short was his joy. He little knew,

The power of Magick was no fable.

Out of the window, whisk, they flew,

But left a spell upon the table.

The words too eager to unriddle

The poet felt a strange disorder;

Transparent birdlime form'd the middle,

And chains invisible the border.

So cunning was the Apparatus,
The powerful pothooks did so move him,
That, will he, nill he, to the Great-house
He went as if the Devil drove him.

Yet on his way (no fign of grace,
For folks in fear are apt to pray)
To Phoebus he prefer'd his case,
And beg'd his aid that dreadful day.

HYMN TO ADVERSITY.

DAUGHTER of Jove, relentless Power,
Thou Tamer of the human breaft,
Whose iron scourge and tort'ring hour
The Bad affright, afflict the Best!
Bound in thy adamantine chain
The Proud are taught to taste of pain,
And purple Tyrants vainly groan
With pangs unfelt before, unpitied and alone.

When first thy Sire to send on earth
Virtue, his darling Child, design'd,
To thee he gave the heav'nly Birth,
And bad to form her infant mind.
Stern rugged Nurse! thy rigid lore
With patience many a year she bore:
What forrow was, thou bad'st her know,
And from her own she learn'd to melt at other's woe.

Scared at thy frown terrific, fly
Self-pleafing Folly's idle brood,
Wild Laughter, Noife, and thoughtless Joy,
And leave us leifure to be good.
Light they disperse, and with them go
The summer Friend, the flatt'ring Foe;
By vain Prosperity received,
To her they vow their truth, and are again believed.

The Author once had thoughts (in concert with a Friend) of giving THE HISTORY OF ENGLISH POETRY: In the Introduction to it he meant to have produced some specimens of the Style that reigned in ancient times among the neighbouring pations, or those who had subdued the greater part of this Island, and were our Progenitors: the following three Imitations made a part of them. He has long since drop'd his design, especially after he had heard, that it was already in the hands of a Person well qualified to do it justice, both by his taste, and his researches into antiquity.

Oft have they balk'd along the funny walls, Oft have the benches bow'd beneath their weight: How jocund are their looks when dinner calls! How smoke the cutlets on their crouded plate!

O let not Temperance too-disdainful hear How long their feasts, how long their dinners last? Nor let the fair, with a contemptuous sneer, On these unmarried men reslections cost? The splendid fortune and the beauteous face
(Themselves confess it and their sires bemoan)
Too soon are caught by scarlet and by lace:
These sons of science shine in black alone.

Forgive, ye fair, th' involuntary fault,

If these no feats of gaiety display,

Where, thro' proud Ranelagh's wide-echoing vault,

Melodious Frasi trills her quavering lay.

Say, is the fword well fuited to the band,

Does 'broider'd coat agree with fable gown,

Can Mechlin-laces shade a churchman's hand,

Or learning's votaties age the beaux of town?

Perhaps in these time-tottering walls reside.

Some who were once the darlings of the fair;

Some who of old could tastes and fashions guide.

Controul the manager, and awe the player.

But science now has fill'd their vacant mind
With Rome's rich spoils and truth's exalted views;
Fir'd them with transports of a nobler kind,
And bade them slight all semales---but the muse.

Full many a lark, high-towering to the fky, Unheard, unheeded, greets th' approach of light;

Full many a ftar, unfeen by mortal eye,

With twinkling luftre glimmers thro' the night.

Some future Herring, who, with dauntless breast,
Rebellion's torrent shall, like him, oppose;
Some mute, unconscious Hardwicke here may rest,
Some Pelham, dreadful to his country's foes.

From prince and people to command applause,
'Midst ermin'd peers to guide the high debate,
To shield Britannia's and Religion's laws,
And steer with steady course the helm of state,

Fate yet forbids; nor circumscribes alone
Their growing virtues, but their crimes confines;
Forbids in freedom's veil t' insult the throne,
Beneath her mask to hide the worst designs.

To fill the madding crowd's perverted mind
With "pensions, taxes, marriages, and Jews;"
Or shut the gates of heaven on lost mankind,
And wrest their darling hopes their future views.

Far from the giddy town's tumultuous strife, sould to Their wishes yet have never learn'd to stray; do no do Content and happy in a single life, and drive sounds' if They keep the noiseless tener of their way.

Even now their books from cobwebs to protect, with H Incols'd by doors of glass, in Doric Ryle, I with had On polish'd pillars rais'd, with bronzes dect, of drill.

They claim the passing tribute of a smile it does not

Oft are the authors' names, tho richly bound, and Mif-spelt by blundering binders' want of care slaid W. And many a catalogue is strow'd around, and many a catalogue is strow'd around a catalogue is strow'd a catalog

For who, to thoughtless ignorance a prey, it will be Neglects to hold short dalliance with a book? Who there but wishes to prolong his stay, and and on those cases casts a linguing look?

Reports attract the lawyer's parting eyes,

Novels lord Fopling and fir Plume require;

For fongs and plays the voice of beauty cries,

And sense and nature Grandison desire.

For thee who, mindful of thy lov'd compeers,

Doft in these lines their artless tale relate,

If 'chance, with prying search, in future years,

Some antiquarian shall enquire thy fate,

Haply some friend may shake his hoary head, And say, ' Each morn, unchill'd by frosts, he ran,

- With hofe ungarter'd, o'er you turfy bed, miles of
- 4 To reach the chapel ere the plaims began,
- ' There in the arms of that lethargic chair, and and all
- Which rears its moth-devoured back fo high,
- At noon he quaff'd three glasses to the fair,
- And por'd upon the news with curious eye.
- Now by the fire, engag'd in ferious talk,
- Or mirthful converse, would he loitering stand;
- 'Then in the garden chose a funny walk,
- · Or launch'd the polish'd bowl with steady hand.
- One morn we mis'd him at the hour of prayer,
- Befide the fire, and on his favourite green;
- Another came, nor yet within the chair,
- * Nor yet at bowls, nor chapel was he feen.

- . The next we heard that in a neighbouring shire
- ' That day to church he led a blushing bride;
- ' A nymph, whose snowy vest and maiden fear
- ' Improv'd her beauty, while the knot was tied.
- Now, by his patron's bounteous care remov'd,
- He roves, enraptur'd, thro' the fields of Kent;
- Yet, ever mindful of the place he lov'd,
- ' Read here the letter which he lately fent.'

- "N rural innocence secure I dwell,
- " Alike to fortune and to fame unknown;
- " Approving conscience cheers my humble cell,
- " And focial quiet marks me for her own.
- " Next to the bleffings of religious truth,
- "Two gifts my-endless gratitude engage;
- " A wife, the joy and transport of my youth,
- " A fon, the pride and comfort of my age.
- " Seek not to draw me from this kind retreat,
- " In loftier spheres unfit, untaught to move;
- " Content with calm, domestic life, where meet
- "The fmiles of friendship and the sweets of love."
